A brilliant new set of Waltzes which will be sure to please. They are similar in style to Strauss' beautiful Waltzes, and not very difficult.

Falling Blossoms Polka. By Charles Kinkel.
G, 3.....Price, 40 cts.
Charles Kinkel has probably written more popular Polkas, Schottisches, Mazurkas, &c., than any other composer. He has the happy faculty of hitting the popular taste, and while there are many more original writers, there are none who seem to please the majority of young players better than Kinkel. This new Polka is in his usual pleasing and attractive style.

Embarrassment. Elegant Transcription, by Karl Merz.
B, flat 4.....Price, 50 cts.
It is a pleasure to notice such compositions as this elegant transcription of Franz Abt's beautiful song. It is the finest transcription Mr. Merz' has yet given us, and we heartily recommend it to all wishing a charming new piano piece of moderate difficulty. As a teaching piece, this as well as Mr. Merz' other transcriptions, cannot but prove useful Teachers will do well to try it. We trust Mr. Merz will give us some more of his beautiful transcriptions.

Price, bound in boards, $2.50; in cloth, $3.00; in cloth. full gilt (an elegant gift edition).....$4.00.

This is the best collection of piano-forte music published in years. Every piece is a GEM. No more useful and appropriate gift for a musical friend can be found than this collection of "Piano Treasures."

Song Treasures. A companion volume to "Piano Treasures," consisting of charming Songs. Every song in this volume is NEW. Among the authors will be found such names as Pinsuti, Campana, Burnap, Lafort, Balfe, Ganz, Sullivan, Offenbach, Wrighton, Abt, Levy, Glover, etc., which gives assurance that the Songs are of no ordinary merit. No better collection of vocal music can be found. Two hundred and twenty-four quarto pages. Price, bound in boards, $2.50; in cloth, $3.00; in cloth, full gilt (an elegant gift edition). $4.00.

Anthems of the Church. A new book for choirs, arranged and compiled by U. C. Burnap and James Flint. Two hundred and eight pages. Price, bound in boards.....$2.50; in cloth, $2.75.

This comely volume, now before us, surpasses all previous collections of church music in the great variety which it offers of all schools of music, from the stately anthems of Goss and Elvey, to the tender and touching quartets of Tabiani and Marchette. While from nearly all collections now published, not over a dozen pieces are selected for use, it seems to us that not a single one of those which form this book can fail of becoming widely popular. There are many gems which must speedily become great favorites with all engaged in the music of our churches. Especially have we been pleased with two novel and strikingly effective quartets from Batiste, arranged as organ solos, with vocal accompaniments which show great care and skill. Throughout the entire work there is evidence of the most thorough familiarity with the wants of our churches, and the most careful adaptation of the book to every possible occasion. There is not a single number of the book which will not have an elevating and refining influence on those who are to listen to it. Its perusal has been to us a source of the greatest pleasure and satisfaction, as we are sure it will prove to all who make themselves familiar with it. Its table of contents includes the name of nearly every eminent composer of church music of the day; and while much of its contents will task the abilities of the best of our city choirs, there is ample store of that which is simple and effective for the use of choirs of moderate abilities. We have never seen a work of the kind which we could so heartily recommend.

The Crown King. For Singing and High Schools, Conventions, Musical Societies, Choirs and Social Gatherings. Preceded by a complete and systematic course of elementary instruction. By N. Coe Stewart and Jas. M. North. Two hundred pages. Price, 75 cents. $7.50 per dozen.

The authors of "Singing School Echo" have here given us a new Singing School and Convention Book, that must meet with a wide sale. It contains fresh, substantial music, both sacred and secular, new church tunes, anthems and chants, and pure and beautiful home songs. We believe that all who give this work a careful examination, will CROWN IT KING of all similar books.
